MONTSERRAT

Montserrat has a sleek and modern look. It has that classic, timeless feel but still manages to look fresh and contemporary. The beauty of Montserrat is in its versatility. Whether I'm designing for a corporate client or working on a creative personal project, it always fits right in.

The font has roots in the urban signage of Buenos Aires, which gives it that unique charm. It's bold when you need it to be, but still elegant enough to not overwhelm a design. I've used it in everything from logos and social media posts to pitch decks and even some of my own branding. There's just something about the way it looks on screen that feels right — crisp, clear, and professional without trying too hard.
